Dear Sirs:

I have been a very satisfied customer of my local ISP, Sonic.net and would not want to see a giant company come in with their muscle to do pretty much what they want. I know from experience that local companies provide quality service (tech support/ billing etc)whereas the big companies are impersonal and service is generally abysmal..

Thank you,,
Roger W. Phillips